CUSTOMER SUCCESS STORIES

NEULI VENTURES

Neuli Ventures, a dynamic food products start-up from Longding District, Arunachal Pradesh, is at the forefront of the millet-based product revolution. Founded by Nokngam Wangjen and Ratnadeep Baruah, the company is deeply committed to empowering local farmers, preserving cultural heritage, and promoting sustainable agriculture. Through our technical support and their unwavering dedication, Neuli Ventures has achieved significant milestones:

- Product Launch: Introduced Foxtail Millet and Foxtail Millet Flour, now featured in government programs as gift hampers, promoting organic and locally sourced millets
- Government Recognition: Secured a major order from the Arunachal Pradesh Agriculture Marketing Board (APAMB), reflecting their commitment to agripreneurship and support for local initiatives.
- Innovation & Investment: Joined the Arunachal Pradesh Innovation & Investment Park (APIIP), showcasing their flagship millet products and commitment to sustainable food production

PRADIP BISWAS

Pradip Biswas, a micro-farmer from Nagaon, Assam, embarked on an ambitious journey by establishing a rice mill equipped with a pulverizer, despite the presence of established competitors in the region. His commitment to quality and community engagement quickly resonated with local villagers, leading them to prefer his services over longstanding rice mills. This surge in demand enabled him to double production capacity by acquiring an additional rice mill. Mr. Biswas's entrepreneurial spirit not only showcases the potential of micro-enterprises but also contributes to the economic development of Nagaon, a district recognized for its agricultural significance.
